Plastic pollution at Gudisa hill rampant, says activist group

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Rajamahendravaram

FAMOUS for its picturesque views, Gudisa, the only grassland tourist destination in Andhra Pradesh, attracts large number of tourists, especially during winters.

Many tourists, however, disregard the law of the land by lighting campfires and littering around their trash, which are strictly prohibited in the reserve forest located 110 km away from Rajamahendravaram and 45 km from Mareduhill in East Godavari agency.

Rights Watch AP President Akkisa Balu told TNIE despite it being prohibited people generally stay a night in the location and indiscriminately dump plastic and liquor bottles that injures wild animals.

He demanded that the state government ban tourists' visits to Gudisa as their "cruel acts harm the local tribal culture and the wild animals." He said forest officials and local police should keep an eye on the movement of tourists, who are generally from the two Telugu states.

Tourism to the Gudisa hill was stopped for a month last year as animals were found to be consuming the plastic waste.

"Most of the tourists are just plain careless. After many groups recently visited Gudisa, plastic pollution has only increased despite officials advising them not to use plastic products. A check post was also set up at the entrance of the hilllock," he observed.

In 2021, ITDA project officer Adithya Praveen had imposed prohibitory orders under section 144 and set up the check post to prevent tourists from entering the place during the second Covid wave.

Innovative EVs from Balan Engineering

Balan Engineering Private Limited, Bengaluru, which manufactures a range of electric vehicles — rickshaws, cargo mobility, agriculture use sprayers, public utility vehicles, ice cream vendor vehicles, vegetable vendors' vehicles and more seems to be taking innovative application of the usage of EVs pretty seriously.

Keeping away from the overcrowded scooter market, they seem to focus on the mass market with value for money products. "The focus is really on the people who use vehicles for their daily bread and butter, such as Cargo movers or various types of vendors," said N Balakrishnan, Founder and Director of the company.

The company has developed vehicles that are useful for simple cargo transport at just about 35 paise per km and Rs.150/- per day to be paid for the bank finance. The vehicle carries 450kg and comes with a 4-year warranty* (conditions apply). "That's why it is called Vishwas" he said.

The same platform has been developed into vegetable vendor vehicles, ice cream and chilled drinks selling vehicle. "The uses are numerous and very soon you will find more of our models hitting the market," said Balakrishnan.

The vendor vehicles are designed to enter into any small lane and they can fold up or expand. They can pull 200-250kg pay load and go around 125km for every charge at 35 paise per km.

The company has obtained all regulatory and subsidy approvals has already sold more than 100 vehicles. It has a decent order bag and is negotiating some big deals at the moment. There are some export negotiations also going on.

Using excellent components, Balan Engineering is the only company offering 4-year warranty* (conditions apply) to customers for its products.

"EV industry will evolve and a big market will develop in the due course of time. We are here for a long-term. The production, which is now about 300 vehicles a month, will soon move to North Karnataka in Bagalkot District. The capacity will be about 50,000 vehicles of various types. Young entrepreneurs have indeed started dreaming big in India. The vehicle is Made in India and a reflection of Atmanirbhar Bharat," said an enthusiastic Balakrishnan.
