

Royal Enfield plans strong lineup for global market

SAJAN C KUMAR
Chennai, June 16

BIKE MAKER ROYAL Enfield has said that there is a tremendous headroom for growth in global markets, and with plans of a strong line-up of global motorcycles and focus on growing the retail network, the company is confident of replicating its India success across the world. In April and May alone, it exported around 20,000 motorcycles to the US, Japan, Europe, Brazil and other places. Royal Enfield motorcycles are now sold in over 60 countries.

CEO B Govindarajan said, "Royal Enfield completed 120 years in December 2021. We are proud that our popular models like Bullet, Classic, Himalayan, Meteor and Interceptor are performing well not only in India but also globally. This was possible because of the dedication and commitment of our employees at Royal Enfield and the affinity and loyalty of our customers."

FY22 marked the addition of two new bikes in its portfolio: The new Royal Enfield Classic 350 and Scram 411, the brand's first ADV Crossover. Since its debut in India in September 2021, the new Classic has been launched across APAC, Europe, and Americas. Govindarajan said, "We have recorded between 80% and 100% growth in overseas sales year-over-year over the past few quarters, and a more than 40% increase in volumes as compared to 2019-20."

GRSE launches cargo and passenger ferry for Guyana

THE CONSTRUCTION of the new North-West District, Region One passenger and cargo ferry—MV Ma Lisha—has been completed and it will soon set sail for Guyana. Garden Reach Shipbuilders and Engineers (GRSE) participated in the tender process, bagging the $12.7-million contract through competitive bidding. The government of India stepped in to fund the vessel via a grant and a line of credit to the Cooperative Republic of Guyana. The MV Ma Lisha was officially launched in Kolkata at the GRSE yard on Wednesday. Minister of public works Juan Edghill, his wife Joan Edghill along with other government officials attended the launch.

AlphaSense nearly doubles valuation to $1.7 billion

TUSHAR GOENKA
Bengaluru, June 16

MARKET INTELLIGENCE AND search platform AlphaSense has raised $225 million in a Series D round led by the Growth Equity business within Goldman Sachs Asset Management (Goldman Sachs) and Viking Global Investors, it said in a statement on Thursday.

After this round, the New York-based company is valued at $1.7 billion, nearly double the valuation from its $180-million Series C funding in September 2021, led by the same two venture capital firms. This round also includes a "substantial" debt investment from BlackRock.

The fresh capital will be invested in product development and content expansion and other operations. The company also plans to grow its offices globally, including innovation hubs in Pune, Mumbai and Delhi. Its annual recurring revenue (ARR) now exceeds $100 million. AlphaSense's user and customer base both grew over 100% in the past year, the statement claimed.

"We are excited to upsize our investment in AlphaSense," said Holger Staudte, a managing director within the Growth Equity business at Goldman Sachs. "Achieving high organic growth and strong business fundamentals while exceeding $100 million in ARR is a substantial accomplishment and demonstrates the team's focus on building an enduring business in a large market."

Raj Neervannan, chief technology officer and co-founder, AlphaSense, said, "With this financing round, we also plan to expand our innovation hubs in Pune, Mumbai and Delhi. We recently doubled our India presence to over 325 people with the recent addition of our Delhi office, and, with our hiring efforts underway to recruit the best talent, we expect our employee count to continue to grow substantially in the coming months. I am proud and delighted by the growth India is seeing and hope to strengthen it."

AlphaSense's base of 3,500 customers now includes over 75% of the S&P 100, 97% of the Dow 30, 70% of top asset management firms and banks and leading companies across industries, the statement said.

ShareChat reaches $5-bn valuation with latest raise

Adds Google and Times Group as new investors in $255-m fundraise

SALMAN SH
Bengaluru, June 16

MOHALLA TECH, WHICH owns homegrown social media company ShareChat, on Thursday closed a multi-tranche funding round worth $520 million, making it one of the biggest deals in the consumer Internet space in the country.

ShareChat's valuation reached $5 billion in the current round. In the first part of the round, ShareChat had raised $266 million in December 2021 from Alkeon Capital, Temasek, HarbourVest, Moore Strategic Ventures, and India Quotient. In the final tranche of this round, post the acquisition of MX TakaTak, ShareChat added Google and Times Group as new investors while Temasek participated yet again, adding $255 million.

ShareChat, which achieved the unicorn status last year, has collectively raised $913 million in 2021.

Byjus, Swiggy, OYO and Ola, among others.

ShareChat (Moalla Tech) runs short video platforms—Mojo and TakaTak—besides the ShareChat app, which together cater to over 400 million users. ShareChat has in the past year, focused on rapidly monetising its various platforms. The company has also built diversified monetisation models beyond advertising in areas like virtual gifting and video commerce. Virtual gifting witnessed mass adoption on the ShareChat app, with the business line already at $50 million ARR, which is set to more than double by year-end.

"Over a year ago, we turned unicorn, and since then, we have been scaling and innovating at an exhilarating pace, further refining our offerings and expanding our operations. The coming year will be about capitalizing on the scale and building robust revenue models. We are committed to empowering every Indian by providing platforms to share experiences, discover new opportunities, showcase their talents and make their passion a means to livelihood," Ankush Sachdeva, CEO & Co-founder, ShareChat and Mojo, said in a statement.

Today, ShareChat claims to have more than 180 million monthly active users spread across the country.

NIA Court frames charges against five accused in terror funding case, discharges 4 others

NEW DELHI: A Special National Investigation Agency Court has framed charges against five accused under the Unlawful Activities Prevention Act (UAPA) and Indian Penal Code (IPC) in a terror funding case.

Meanwhile, the Court discharged four other accused in the case due to lack of evidence. Of these four, two accused were jewellers who were allegedly involved in the transfer of money from Saudi Arabia through banks in Dubai. Special Judge Parvinder Singh of National Court court framed charges against the accused named Shaukat Alibhai Naresh Patel alias Bharmal Bhai, Sayeed Ahmad Mulla alias Yaqoob Ali Khan and Daud under section 14(1) of conspiracy to 10% and UAPA. Court has also framed under the Prohibition Act accused Shaukat Alibhai Patel. The Court has discharged accused Adil Sabir Patel, Dileep Kumar Patel, Abdul Samad and Gul Noor from all charges for lack of evidence.

Adil Sabir Patel had stayed aggrieved. He and his wife were represented by Advocate Rakesh Patel.

NIA has arrested accused Shaikh Abdul Rehman alias Sajid Khan on November 29, 2017, and was arrested at Charkhi Dadri (Haryana) on October 11, 2019. Patel's discharge was granted by the State Dam Safety Organisation (SDSO), a top 10 central Ministry official said on Thursday.

The SDSO and 2000 am two bodies that are responsible under the Dam Safety Act, 2021 that was cleared by the Parliament in December 2021. The main function was stated by Sanjeev Srivastava, Joint Secretary Department of Water Resources, River Development and Ganga Rejuvenation under the Ministry of Jal Shakti at a day-long national workshop on Dam Safety Act, 2021 for dam safety governance in India initiated by various Ministry offices, Ministers and officials from state government, representatives of PWD that run or own dams etc. These committees are to be formed by June 30. "The time left is so less, we appeal all the states to form their respective committees within the timeline and implement the Act in 2021," he appealed. Noting that the Dam Safety

Act 2021 provides for various permits issuance, he said. "We hope we serve benefit to implement any of its provisions."

The Court will then hear

Joint Secretary, the National Committee for Dam Safety Commission (CSDC), said. "It

Only 10 states have set up committees for dam safety: Centre all talk about large dams and their safety but there is an enormous number of smaller dams and we have not even counted them. They also pose a threat to not just human life but environment but also to the water."

Earlier, in the inaugural session, Union Jal Shakti Minister, Gajendra Singh Shekhawat said, "Our water storage capacity is just 10% less compared to other parts of the world. The prospectus of new dams as compared to the estimated ones in the demand for water are low. Therefore, we need to work towards optimum utilisation of existing dams, as well as work upon better

Meet ED Director SK Mishra who is handling National Herald case

NEW DELHI: The high-profile National Herald case has suddenly become the most burning topic of prime time discussions since the Enforcement Directorate (ED) began investigating press baron Rakesh Kapoor. But who is handling the case?

The case is being handled by ED Director Ranjeet Kumar Mishra, an Indian Revenue Service officer of the 1984 batch. Before joining the ED, Mishra also served in the Income Tax Department. He was made the Principal Special Director of ED in November 19, 2019, and a few days later, he was promoted as Director of the ED. Mishra, during his career spanning 4 decades, has handled several high-profile cases that several times landed him praise from the government, during his tenure as the financial probe agency. Mishra has taken after a string of major laundering cases such as the Yes Bank case related to former ICICI Bank CEO Chanda Kochhar's husband Devendra Kumar and the Virender Malhotra case. Under Mishra's tenure, Christian Michel, one of the persons accused in the AgustaWestland chopper scam was brought to justice. Officials say that it was one of the major breakthroughs in the case. At present, Mishra is handling the most controversial National Herald case in which Rakesh Kapoor is facing the agency.

The ED has been investigating the case since November 2019.
